Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 16 October 2003.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102(b)

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-7, 12, & 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mussmann et al., "hereinafter Mussmann", (US Pat. 6,294,140 B1).

Mussmann discloses a catalyst for treating exhaust gas from an internal combustion engine, comprising: a carrier body; an inner layer, deposited on said carrier body, said inner layer comprising platinum deposited on a first support material and on a first oxygen storage component; and an outer layer, deposited on said inner layer, said outer layer comprising platinum and rhodium deposited on a second support material and on second oxygen storage component (see col. 18, claim 1). The first and second support materials are the same or different, and comprise at least one compound selected from a group including zirconia-rich zirconia/ceria mixed oxide (see col. 18, claim 2). The first and second storage components comprise ceria-rich ceria/zirconia mixed oxide compounds (see col. 18, claim 5).

Mussmann discloses the claimed ceramic catalyst, thus anticipates the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mussmann et al., "hereinafter Mussmann", (US Pat. 6,294,140 B1).

Mussmann discloses a catalyst as described above, except for the three layers of promoter components, wherein the innermost layer of the layers comprises a ceria.

However, it would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the catalyst of Mussmann by adding a ceria layer as an innermost layer on the substrate in order to achieve a more promoted catalyst because ceria is known in the art a useful catalyst promoter.

5. Claims 9-11 & 13-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mussmann et al., "hereinafter Mussmann", (US Pat. 6,294,140 B1), as applied to claims 1-7, 12, & 19 above, and further in view of Koike et al., (European Patent 1 043 067 A2), "hereinafter EP '067".

Mussmann discloses a catalyst as described above, except for the claimed ceramic support material and its properties.

However, the EP '067 fairly teaches a ceramic support material and having the same properties as being claimed (see EP '067 pages 29-36 & abstract). Thus, it would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have utilized such known ceramic support material as taught by the EP '067 to make the catalyst of Mussmann because it is known as useful catalyst support material.
